What does the healthy divine masculine energy feel like to you?

NOTES:

Rituals: A powerful way to create sacred intention in our lives and connect to our divinity. Rituals bring the sacred into our lives. Rituals help us tap into the power of co-creation in a broader, spiritual and embodied way. Rituals remind us that we are sacred and help us move in life with that perspective. Rituals allow us to feel more love and connection and let the sacred move through the mundane.

“Rituals are medicine for the soul.” ~ Rose Cole

Rituals help us mark beginnings and endings. They help us in creating completions while engaging in what we want to stream into our lives. They help us to weave the energy of synchronicity and divine orchestration on a more conscious level and work us on a cellular level. Through ritual and ceremony you can create a foundation and grounding for your spiritual path.

“Rituals are the dance. The music is sourced from the essence of our spirit. Altars are the sacred tools that help us bring the music and our intentions into fruition.” ~ Marcela Veron

Altar: A sacred container and sacred space for intention and co-creation. A vehicle used to tune into magic and ritual into your presence, intention and invocation. An altar helps you in bringing forth co-creative energy into material form, bringing beauty into form and sanctuary to honor your invocations. An altar is created to help you focus spiritual intention and connection to your divine purpose. It is a space to honor you in intimate ways. It is a sacred space where you can come to and commune. It can help you tap in and tune into your soul, intuition, and re-energize your intentions.

Love Altars are specifically called for healing and embracing love in your life and can act as conduits of love energy throughout your body ad relationships. The elements that you are called to use in your love altar can represent different aspects of your love journey and intention.
